

Over 600 Valencian children affected by the DANA enjoy an unforgettable day at PortAventura World

The initiative promoted by the PortAventura Foundation, in collaboration with Grupo Transvia, has the aim of giving them hope again after the natural disaster

PortAventura World, 17th of December 2024. The PortAventura Foundation, created in 2011 with the aim of supporting the most vulnerable groups, especially children and young people, has organised charity workdays with Grupo Transvia with the aim of returning hope to children affected by the tragic impact of the DANA in Valencia.

On the 17th and 18th of December, a total of 659 children and 42 teachers from schools in Picanya, Paiporta, Algemés, Catarroja, Benetússer and Aldaia travelled to the resort on buses provided by Transvia, and enjoyed a special day at PortAventura World, as well as a group lunch at one of the restaurants of PortAventura Park.

The activity, aimed at children of different ages and school years, strengthens the commitment of the PortAventura Foundation to the well-being of children and its support for communities during difficult times. This action is part of the purpose of the Foundation, which since 2011 has sought to use the transformative power of leisure to generate a positive impact among children who need it most.

In turn, Grupo Transvia also shows its concern for children's education and well-being, as well as its continued support for communities in times of adversity. In addition to offering educational and leisure experiences for the pupils, it has shown its spirit of solidarity in organising this day in collaboration with the PortAventura Foundation.

As a company with extensive experience in the organisation of school trips, Grupo Transvia continues to strengthen its ties with education centres, offering the pupils moments of happiness and learning, especially in difficult situations such as that caused by the DANA in the Valencian Community.
